

Enroll in the Associates Degree in Fire Technology Administration and Fire up your education in Fairfield County

Naugatuck Valley Community College offers the only fire related associates degree program in the state college system. To expand the opportunity to potential Fairfield County students, they are offering the introductory course, Introduction to Fire Technology at the Norwalk Fire Department. Graduates of the Fire Administration program have gone on to lead municipal fire departments in Connecticut.

<http://www.nv.edu/Credit/Fire-Technology-And-Administration>

What does this mean?

You would be an enrolled student at Naugatuck Valley Community College (NVCC)

15 credit would have to be taken through NVCC (that's the 5 fire classes!)

NVCC would offer fire classes in Fairfield County each semester

The core classes can be taken at the NVCC Waterbury campus or any other of the state college locations (Norwalk Community/UCONN)

Who should enroll?

- High School Graduates that want to make a career in the fire service
- Career firefighters aspiring for promotion
- Volunteer firefighters that want to make a difference in the organization

How can I enroll?

Contact Division Director Mitchell Holmes

203-575-8117 or MHolmes@nvcc.commnet.edu